In the Ole Courthouse, village of Swan Quarter, NC

Upcoming 2016 Classes and Workshops

DRAWING WORKSHOPS

Last 4 Thursdays in March (10th, 17th, 24th, 31st)

6 PM-8PM ~ four sessions $70

The classes will begin with instruction on basic drawing, shapes, a little on perspective, techniques, shading and highlights. We will begin with pencil, the most versatile of drawing media, good for precision and control. We will discuss and work with different mediums as the workshop progresses. Your workshop fee of $70.00 includes all materials: sketch book, various pencils, charcoal and erasers to keep. Other tools and materials will be provided for use during classes. For those who wish to continue developing their skills at the conclusion of the workshop, information will be given on drawing tools, materials, their uses, and where to purchase them. Your instructor is Kaye Lee Brady of Utah, recently of Pantego, N.C.

FINE ARTS- PORTRAITS

IMPRESSIONIST OIL PAINTING

Saturday, March 19th ~ $50

Students will begin with comprehensive instruction on facial construction and perspective followed by developing their drawing skills with shading and highlighting in pencil, then advancing to painting. Live model will be provided for the afternoon portion of this class. 9:30 AM-4:30 PM. $50.00 instruction fee. $10.00 supply fee.

Instructor: Mark Hierholzer of Richmond/Swan Quarter.

JUTE MAT CROCHETING

Saturday, April 2nd

9 AM- 5 PM ~ $70

(Depending on skill level, students may not need the entire day to finish their project but we are allowing a full day just in case!) Working with supple jute from a 300 yard spool (enough to complete TWO 24" x 34" oval rugs), students will learn how to crochet a simple oval rug suitable for indoor or outdoor use. Materials and tools are included in the enrollment fee and the big bonus is that it's all yours to keep. You will have half of your spool left over so you can continue another project at your leisure. $70 per person, maximum 8 students
